“THE INNOVATIONISTS- Exploring the Realms of New Media Arts”

02.05.2013

Input/Output has actively showcased new media artworks from international artists since our establishment. This time, we are bringing “THE INNOVATIONISTS– Exploring the Realms of New Media Arts” into Hong Kong. “THE INNOVATIONISTS” , curated by I/O curator Joel Kwong was first exhibited for Museum of Contemporary Art (MOCA) in Taiwan, we will be bringing forth the second edition of it to Hong Kong K11 Art Mall starting May 22nd to July 2nd, 2013. This exhibition opens up a multi-angle discussion towards our daily lives, creating dialogue and interaction between space, the artist, the audience and the media.

We have gathered artworks from numerous artists including Scott Hessel’s Sustainable Cinema (US/HK), Chris Honhim Cheung and XEX GRP’s Anadelta (HKG), Samson Young’s Machines for Making Nothing (HKG), Eric Siu’s Touchy (JPN/HKG), COGOO x SEMITRANSSPARENT DESGIN x TBWA/HAKUHODO’s Turntable Rider (JPN), Akibo’s DaDi, BeBe.5, and LuLubo Robots (TPE), and Dimension+’s Adolescence, Metamorphosis, and Biomechanics (TPE/HKG). Moreover, THE INNOVATIONISTS also prepared various art programs for visitors, which includes performance and workshop by Eric Siu on May 25th, workshop by Dimension+ on June 8th and Artist Sharing by Scott Hessel, Samson Young, and Keith Lam (Dimension+). For further information and registration, please email: k11art@k11concepts.com

THE INNOVATIONISTS is a revolution to challenge the conventional way of looking at artworks, self revelation of the artworks, as well as the possibility of media intervention. The exhibition, as a group, opens up a window for contemplation and debate.

The exhibition starts on May 22nd, 2013 to May 2nd, 2013 at K11 Art Mall. All works will be displayed at 107 Artspace and Atrium of K11 Art Mall. The exhibition is free to public.
